

EDITORIAL

Dear readers,

It is with great satisfaction that the editorial team of UNESCO em Revista presents Volume 9, Issue 1, of 2025.

As a multidisciplinary publication, we reaffirm our commitment to the appreciation of knowledge in its multiple dimensions, believing that science, as it develops across various fields, contributes significantly to academic, social, and human progress.

This issue is composed of nine scientific articles, carefully selected and peer-reviewed, in accordance with the submission guidelines available on the journal's official website. The works cover different areas of knowledge, reflecting the thematic plurality and methodological diversity that characterize our editorial approach.

Among the topics addressed, we highlight discussions on the internationalization of higher education, the management of animal diseases, public health issues, aging, oncology, toxicology, odontogenic infections, and labor law — as well as research developed in different regions of Brazil, with interdisciplinary approaches and, in some cases, international reach through publication in English.

Below, we present the articles featured in this issue:

► Internationalization of Higher Education at UNESCO: Effects of a Decade – Fernanda Araujo Gonzalez et al.

► Co-infection by Canine Transmissible Venereal Tumor, Hepatozoonosis, and Dirofilaria immitis – A Clinical Challenge in Dogs – Case Report – Breno Sérgio Corona Dias et al.

► Epidemiological Profile and Temporal Incidence of Suicide Attempt Reports Due to Exogenous Intoxication in Cities of Espírito Santo (2007–2019) – Gabriela Araújo dos Santos et al.

► Comparison of Ventilatory Disorders Between Younger and Older Elderly Adults: A Cross-sectional Study Based on Spirometry Findings – Iara Silva Correia et al.

► Evaluation of Poisoning Cases by Household Products in Espírito Santo – Izadora Correia dos Santos et al.

► Odontogenic Infections and Cardiorespiratory Complications – Leandro de Oliveira Reckel et al.

► Negotiated or Protected Justice? Limits of Self-Composition in the Labor Court of Colatina-ES – Waléria Demoner Rossoni, Rodolfo Roldi Corona

We thank all the authors, reviewers, and contributors involved in this edition, and we invite our readers to explore the articles published here, confident that their content will enrich scientific debate and strengthen academic production.

Enjoy your reading!
